

Great European Models SRI

Investment universe

Great European Models SRI invests predominantly in European large and mid caps, incorporating ESG criteria into the process of selecting and analysing portfolio securities. The fund is labelled ISR.

Great Models Investment Process

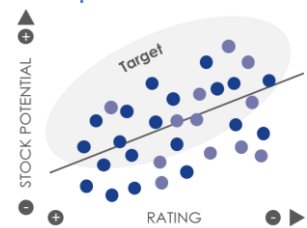

While a limited number of companies can create value across the business cycle, the lion share of economic profit is captured by a handful of market players. The purpose of the Great Models methodology is to identify companies that become great as they leverage both their tangible and intangible assets.

These companies can be obvious GEMs (attractive long-term potential) as well as hidden GEMs, ie little known stories, or, stocks that are impacted by short-term risk aversion in their given segment.

We look for:

- SOLID BUSINESS MODELS
- QUALITY OF THE MANAGERIAL STRATEGY
- VALUE CREATION THROUGHOUT MARKET CYCLES
- FAVORABLE MARKET ENVIRONMENT

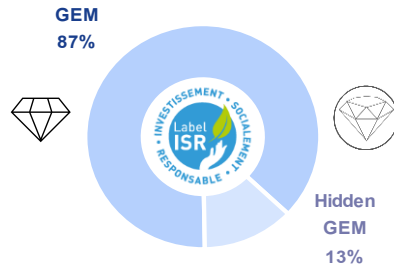

▶ Select in this universe the stocks whose couple "rating/stock market potential" is attractive

PORTFOLIO

European markets recorded a second consecutive month of gains, supported by a strong annual earnings season. Most companies reported an improvement in business activity at the end of 2024 and slightly better-than-expected outlooks for 2025. Meanwhile, the period was marked by Donald Trump's tariff fluctuations, as well as his intention to end the Ukrainian conflict and, at the same time, push other NATO members to increase their military spending.

In this context, our GEMs were particularly driven by strong earnings reports, notably from payment platform Adyen, which gained market share among existing clients and achieved an EBITDA margin once again above 50% in the second half of the year. We also highlight Ferrari's results, as sales continued to be supported by its strong price-mix effect. However, in the media sector, we were impacted by Wolters Kluwer, following results that slightly missed expectations and the announcement of the CEO's departure.

Our Hidden GEMs delivered mixed performances. While we once again benefited from the strong momentum of music streaming platform Spotify, we were also supported by brewer Heineken, which exceeded expectations, particularly in volume growth. Among the main detractors, sportswear manufacturer On Holding struggled, affected by disappointing earnings reports from some specialized competitors.

During the month, we continued to increase our positions in the luxury sector (LVMH) and software (SAP, Dassault Systèmes). On the other hand, we took some profits in healthcare (EssilorLuxottica) and industry (Atlas Copco).

FOCUS : MUNICH RE

SDG 8

Munich RE  MunichRe is the global leader in the reinsurance sector. Its clients are primarily primary insurers seeking to protect their balance sheets by transferring part of their risks to the reinsurer, in the fields of property and casualty insurance (60% of operating profit) and life insurance (30%).

MunichRe has developed specific expertise in natural disasters, industrial risks, and cybersecurity, and also operates a primary insurance business (Ergo), which ensures high diversification and a stronger solvency ratio.

The industry's fundamentals are well positioned: natural disasters are becoming increasingly significant, driving demand while discouraging the supply of alternative capital, which lacks the financial strength required to absorb such shocks.

A true GEM, MunichRe stands out for its consistent profit growth, thanks in particular to its highly prudent risk management, which allows for reserve releases and better control.

Finally, with a high solvency ratio, MunichRe has one of the strongest balance sheets in the sector, enabling it to absorb shocks and implement an attractive shareholder return policy, consisting of dividends and share buybacks (85% of profits returned to shareholders over the past 10 years).
