The fund

M Sport Solutions SRI is an international thematic equity fund, all market caps targeting firms who are exposed to the sport and wellbeing sectors thus benefiting from secular growth trends.

The investment strategy is based on three core pillars:

1. Sporting Goods & Equipments

Manufacturing and distribution of sportswear, accessories & equipment.

2. Healthy & Active Lifestyle

Solutions that allow to live a healthier and better life.

3. Sport Business

Actors that are engaged in the sport and e-sports sectors.

We are convinced that our environmental, social and governance (ESG) considerations are key aspects to sustainable performance in our investments. In this framework, our fund has fully integrated ESG criterions in its management process.

Investment universe

The goal of the fund is to participate in the rise and fall of international equity markets by investing at least 50% of the funds' net assets in the share of companies whose activities are linked to the sports, health, and wellness sectors. We seek to incorporate ESG criteria into the selection and analysis of portfolios securities. The fund will mainly invest in equities and similar instruments, up to a minimum of 75%, through a 'Bottom Up' management approach favoring a search for high quality stocks.

PORTFOLIO

Uncertainty is growing in the United States. Announcements of new tariffs are coming at a relentless pace. From Canada to Latin America, including Mexico, and from the European Union to China, Trump is taking an aggressive approach on all fronts. While the concrete implementation remains unclear at this stage, the latest indicators from across the Atlantic show increasing caution among economic players in response to this new context, and even the Fed is expected to remain prudent before deciding on its monetary policy direction. Meanwhile, as Germany awaits its new coalition, the ECB is likely to continue its monetary easing to help the Old Continent regain its position in the global financial and strategic landscape. In this context, cyclical consumption, which makes up the majority of the M Sport Solutions portfolio, was the main detracting sector of the month. The segment of sports equipment manufacturers (44% of the portfolio) was unsurprisingly down, with challenger brands such as On Holding, Deckers, Wolverine, and Skechers suffering from concerns over slowing growth, despite generally solid earnings reports. These weaknesses were partially offset by Chinese stocks like Anta Sports and TopSports. Companies linked to active and healthy lifestyles (38%) performed better, with the Nordic gym leader SATS and the global leader in activity monitors, Garmin, standing out. Finally, stocks related to professional sports (17%) remained broadly stable, with examples like TKO Group and Liberty Media Formula One.

FOCUS: BELLRING BRANDS

bellring™ BellRing Brands is a leading American company in performance nutrition beverages and foods, best known for its Premier Protein brand, a ready-to-drink protein beverage that accounts for approximately 85% of its sales. This brand continues to gain market share, reaching nearly 20% of households in its ready-to-drink protein beverage segment.

Its second brand, Dymatize (12% of sales), specializing in protein powders, is also experiencing strong momentum, with continuous volume growth. BellRing Brands stands out for its low capital intensity, with over 80% of its production outsourced. This strategy enables the company to maintain higher profitability than many of its competitors in the industry.

The group benefits from significant growth potential, driven by ongoing market share gains in its existing segments and increasing penetration among a population that is increasingly focused on adopting an active and healthy lifestyle.
